What is “AgroFuture” Project?

The basic idea of the project is the implementation of a TC in agro-entrepreneurship, which will constitute the distillation of the contribution of the participating organizations. Since all the partners have been recognized for the vital role of agricultural education in relation to young people, they have decided to establish an innovative and specialized international TC. This TC will allow young workers to acquire theoretical and practical knowledge in the field of agriculture. Therefore, the fundamental objective of the TC is the provision of a contemporary pedagogical material attractive to young workers, which will therefore operate as the main catalyst to inspire young people to apply agribusiness

'AgroFuture' will not only enrich the knowledge of youth workers in the field, but also seek to contribute to the reduction of youth unemployment by boosting the rural and regional economy through the creation of new agribusinesses or the participation of a greater percentage of young people in the agrarian sector. More specifically, the expansion of education combined with the creation of an unprecedented solid network among young workers with a strong interest in the agricultural sector will definitely help to update economic activities in rural areas, thus pointing to the development regional, a fact that provides additional quality and added value to the project.

To conclude, the 'AgroFuture' project aims to educate the next generation of entrepreneurs who are concerned about the agricultural ramifications of entrepreneurship. This objective will be achieved successfully through the production of able influential multipliers, such as civil society organizations and youth workers who will eventually be educated to educate and, therefore, exploit the material derived from the project. More analytically, by integrating a range of non-formal methods, ICT tools and educational material into the normal activities of the organizations mentioned, potential agribusiness entrepreneurs will be trained to maximize both their entrepreneurial skills and agricultural knowledge, thus identifying the challenges of our times that could allow them to develop solutions and models for sustainable agribusiness
